

Brockton Notes.

By B. F. Weaver
(All communications intended for this department should be addressed to B. F. Weaver, New Brockton, Ala.)

Mr. W. E. Lewis and family from near Abbeville have moved here and occupy the house formerly occupied by Porter March who is now on a farm above town.

Mr. E. C. Brunson has returned from a trip to points in Florida. He brought back with him a fine horse from Warsaw Florida.

B. W. Harper is attending court at Elba this week.

Rev. Mr. Daily of Enterprise, was the guest of Dr. Miller Saturday night.

Rev. Blizard of Ozark was here Saturday night and delivered an address on Woodcraft, after which officers were installed. The Woodmen have a strong organization here which is growing rapidly.

A University Professor has figured out that at the present progress of race suicide there will be no babies in this country by 2020, that the stock will have left our shores entirely.

I will bet with that my great grand-children will take their children out for an airing in a automobile.

Around Brockton there are more telephone lines than at any place I have ever seen. They are mixed and crossed and tangled in every direction, and the service is not so near what it should be or would be if there were a good central office here.

Let the owners of these different lines get together on a proposition to some experienced man to build an exchange here.

Many people have no work here and are working farms near by. So completely has the land been taken around here a gentleman told me there was no land to rent. Better than having to advertise farms isn't it?

6 NEW GOVERNORS ARE INAUGURATED

Many Changes in the Democratic Ranks.

REPUBLICAN FOR NEVADA

For the First Time in Eighteen Years New York Has a Democratic Governor, John A. Dix Having Assumed Reins of Government.

Six new governors, four of them representing different political parties than their predecessors, were inaugurated in the United States Tuesday. In three of the states the changes represent gains to the democratic ranks, the fourth, Nevada, by inaugurating Tasker L. Oddie, now has its first republican chief executive in nearly a score of years.

The following are the states in which new chief executives took their offices: New York, John Alden Dix (democrat), succeeds Horace White (republican).

Wisconsin, F. E. McGovern (republican), succeeds James Davidson (republican).

Michigan, Chase E. Osborn (republican), succeeds Fred M. Warner (republican).

Wyoming, Joseph M. Orr (democrat), succeeds B. B. Brooks (republican).

Idaho, James H. Hawley (democrat), succeeds J. H. Brady (republican).

Nevada, Tasker L. Oddie (republican), succeeds D. C. Dickinson (democrat).

Governor Dix, the first democratic governor of New York in eighteen years, took his oath of office amid a brilliant gathering, the great assembly chamber at the capitol building at Albany being filled with notable. The inauguration of Governor Osborn, on the other hand, was marked by extreme simplicity. He had appointed no military staff and assumed his position in the parlor of the executive suite before only friends and relatives.

In the states where the advent of the new governor was marked by a change in the political complexion, the tendency to make the inauguration a celebration was more marked. Republicans from the mountains of Nevada, many of whom were compelled to endure a journey involving long trips by carriages and on horseback, flocked from all portions of the state to witness a republican take the reins in the highest office in the state.

ON STARVATION'S BRINK.

Conditions in Chinese Provinces Said to Be Appalling.

An affecting picture of the ravages of the famine in China is afforded by a report to the state department by the American consul at Nanking, enclosing extracts from the Shanghai newspapers. The consul says that the famine is even more severe than that of three years ago since it affects a larger territory (seven counties in the northern part of the province Anhui (Kiangsu) and a greater population, in this case numbering 2,500,000 persons).

The famine is owing to the serious floods last summer which utterly destroyed the autumn crops. The roads are filled with refugees, who in many cases in their desperation are robbing and plundering the villages where foodstuffs and money are to be found.

DEAD AT THROTTLE.

Heart Failure Struck Engineer and the Fireman Stopped the Train.

With the train running at a speed of nearly 50 miles an hour, H. C. Beck, engineer of the Pittsburgh express, which left Philadelphia, was found dead in the cab by the fireman while the express was nearing Bird-Hand, Pa.

Walter Moore, the fireman, climbed to the engine driver's side. As he reached him the engineer was about to fall out of the window. The fireman brought the express to a stop. A physician on the train said death was due to heart disease.

FLEW ONCE TOO OFTEN.

Hoxsey and Moisant, Daring Aviators, Meet Sudden Deaths.

John B. Moisant and Arch Hoxsey, America's foremost aviators, were killed Saturday. Moisant met his death when attempting to land in a field several miles from New Orleans. Hoxsey, displaying his skill before another crowd of thousands at Los Angeles, lost control of his Wright biplane and falling several hundred feet, was dashed to death.

Moisant, who won the $10,000 prize recently in New York for circling the Statue of Liberty from Belmont Park, defeating Gabriele White, of England, was killed when his monoplane tipped "over its nose" and dropped in one sweep to earth. The pilot's neck was broken.

Hoxsey was over 500 feet in the air when he had gone to better. It possible his world's altitude record made within the week of 11,474 feet. The rear control of his biplane evidently failed to answer to his touch, and the machine turned over several times, crashing to the earth. Hoxsey's death was instantaneous.

The gigantic task of building a low-grade double track line through the rugged hill country on which Lynchburg, Va., rests and across the ravines which surround it, has just been completed by the Southern Railway Company, which announces that it expects to begin the operation of passenger and freight service over the new line very soon after the beginning of the New Year.

A move to extend the scope of the Young Men's Christian Association to negroes was begun at Chicago with an offer by Julius Rosenwald, head of a big commercial house, to give $25,000 to every city in the United States which will raise $75,000 to be spent for a Y. M. C. A. building for negroes.

Good roads and more of them. That is the slogan of the new national association to further the cause of highway improvements, which was organized recently in Washington and has begun work in a systematic way to correlate and coordinate the efforts of all existing agencies for highway improvement.

Official announcement is expected to be made at Atlanta soon of the passing of the Fitzgerald, Ocala and Brockton railroad of forty-one miles into the hands of the Atlanta, Birmingham and Atlantic railway. H. M. Atkinson, receiver for the latter, is expected to become president of the new acquisition. Fitzgerald probably will be headquarters.

Plans are being made by the promoters of the New York-to-Atlanta National Automobile Highway for a "carnegie high" over the course between the two cities, according to J. H. Macstaller, a prominent citizen of Roanoke, Va., who was recently in Atlanta.

The idea is to have night controls, dinner stops, etc., for the airman, just as is the case for automobilists.

Governor-elect Hooper, of Tennessee, has announced that under no circumstances would he be a candidate for the United States senate. This statement came as a reply to the report that an effort will be made to send him to Washington, relieving him of the governorship.

William F. Sheehan, of New York, made formal announcement of his resignation to the United States senate in a letter addressed to Mayor Louis F. Fichmann, of Buffalo, who, with other leading Buffalo democrats, recently informed him for the seat, which will become vacant when the term of Senator Dewey expires, March 4, 1911.

LEGISLATORS MEET IN REGULAR SESSION.

House And Senate Organize And Get Busy, Governor Sends Interesting Message.

Alabama's legislature got to work in regular session Tuesday. Senator Hugh Morrow, of Birmingham, was selected as President pro. tem of the Senate.

Judge Almon, of Colbert was elected speaker of the house.

Gov. Comer's message was received. It is a lengthy document and in it Gov. Comer shows that he still believes in "my policies" and hasn't any apologies to make for what he has done or what he attempted to do.

On the railroad question the Governor has much to say to justify his course. He gives the total cost of the railroad to the state at about $75,000 of this amount two thirds went in lawyers' fees and one third for court costs.

In referring to Judge Jones he says: "Four years ago a federal district or circuit judge could practically tie up a state legislature in Alabama, four years ago, the judge of the inferior federal court made himself a czar of our laws. The drama of the Russians in its first attempt at legislation for a constitutional government was not treated with more contempt by the czar than was our legislature in their attempt to legislate against the power and dominance of the railroad."

Reviewing the prohibition enactment the governor says that the first state wide bill was passed by over two thirds of the members of the legislature who had come to the capitol fresh from their constituents and therefore were voting according to the wishes of the people. Later, he says, it becomes evident that the first law was not sufficiently powerful to make its enforcement sure. He therefore called the legislature again in session and he claims that the laws then passed can be enforced if the officers of the law will do their duty.

The Amendment Question.

The governor further declares that his main object in calling the legislature together the second time was in order that there should be a referendum to the people as to whether they might have an opportunity of saying whether or not sale of liquor should ever again be sanctioned in this state, and that it was not the purpose of the amendment to take from the people any of its rights.

"The state should feel humiliated that the liquor and beer manufacturers north of the Ohio river should get together in conference and dictate Alabama's prohibition laws," the governor says.

In his concluding paragraph on the prohibition laws of the state, the governor says that it is true that Alabama may have a series of trouble in enforcing the prohibition laws yet so much of the country is agricultural and so little urban that the time will surely come when improved conditions are so manifest that the rural people of the state will have strength to say to the blind tigers and the wildcats and the concomitants which trail after them—"get out."

Touching on the pension fund the governor says it has nearly doubled itself in the last four years.

Of the state treasury he says that on December 1, 1906 the treasury vaults contained $915,804.40, and on December 1, 1910, $950,550.

A lecturer for the "Millionaire Dwarves" delivered two discourses at the court house Wednesday. The lectures were heard by good crowds and, we understand they were considered very instructive. Quite a number of people here believe in this new doctrine and the number seems to be growing.

We hope they are correct, and that the long heralded peace and joy period is close at hand. So far, however, as Coffee County is concerned we don't suppose the peace will be noticeable.

More Nipples and Chapped Hams are quickly cured by applying Chamberlain's Salve. Try it. It is a miracle. Price 25 cents.

New Year's Greetings.

At this, the beginning of the new year, we take this means of sending our best wishes to the people of Elba and Coffee County, and expressing to them our sincere thanks for the splendid patronage they gave us through the year just passed.

When we opened our stock of general merchandise, some months ago, we determined to pursue the same policy in dealing with the people that had been our custom when selling hardware alone--That was to handle only the best goods, to sell them at a fair price, and to see that every customer received full value for each dollar spent at our stores.

We are pleased to say that the result of this policy has been very gratifying to us. Day by day we have seen our trade increase, and each day has added new customers to our list, and made new friends for our house. This has gone on through the year until the total amount of business we have done has far exceeded our expectations. We are, of course, thankful to the people for this evidence of their friendship, for without it we could not have made our business the success it is.

In conclusion we are pleased to say that the new year finds us in better position to sell satisfying goods than ever before.

With larger capital, more experience, better buying facilities and the same determination to give full value for every dollar received we confidently expect our business to continue to grow, and enjoy the prosperity that we wish all our friends during the good year 1911.

Sincerely Yours,

EDWARDS HARDWARE COMPANY,

One of the interesting facts shown by the census returns is that to counties with good roads show a decrease in population. Good roads bring good people.

Perhaps you noticed that North Alabama men got all the offices in both house and senate. The "Hill Billies" have a way of pulling together when the final rush for the pie counter is on.

Among the first bills to introduced in the state senate was one to pay turn-key fees to sheriffs; and another to raise the governor's salary to $7,500. It is said that Gov. Comer is opposed to increasing the governor's salary. If it is true it can hardly become a law in time to effect Gov. O'Neal.

How pleasant it is to deal with a real gentleman in business.
One of the kind that can deny a request courteously or grant it graciously. This kind is not always clothed in fine linen, often you find them in overalls, with smoot or girt on their hands, they may have to make a cross for their name, but they are true gentlemen all the same and are worth more to the town than many men richer in money and poorer in courtesy.

The inauguration of Gov-elect

O'Neal on the 16th inst., is to be the biggest thing ever, if the stories being sent out from Montgomery are to be believed. Seven brass bands, a thousand soldiers, 200 automobiles and several thousand just common people are to be in the parade. It might be in the Auditorium there is to be a grand hall, with room for 500 couples to caper in, and 1000 admiring friends to look on.

The present legislature will be asked to appropriate $25,000 to show cotton planters how to fight the boll weevil. This is a very small amount to begin such an important work with. It is not half enough to do the work effectively.

thing that ever was made is Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver ever you require their aid. These strength, listlessness into energy, gloominess into joyousness.

Their action is so gentle one does

Some Facts Concerning Fertilizers.

In view of the wide-spread and constantly increasing use of commercial fertilizers in the State of Alabama, it seems well to place before the public a few simple facts concerning these.

Of the some twelve or fourteen elements used by plants, only three—nitrogen, phosphoric acid and potash—are ever so deficient as to require application. A word as to the function of each of these may not be inappropriate.

Nitrogen, which is most often secured in the form of cotton seed meal, dried blood and nitrate of soda, produces stalk and leaf growth in all crops. This is the most expensive of the three fertilizing elements, costing as it does at present more than 20 cents a pound.

Phosphoric acid produces always the opposite effect of nitrogen—that is, instead of forming stalk and leaf growth its function is the production of fruit and the hastening of maturity. The present price of phosphoric acid is approximately 6 cents per pound. These two elements are needed or most of the upland soils of Alabama.

Potash, the third element, is the least deficient of the three and its main functions seem to be in producing plant vigor and in the prevention of disease. Generally speaking, applications of potash have not paid on Alabama soils for corn nor with cotton except where there has been a tendency to "black rust."

If the above facts are borne in mind in the purchase of commercial fertilizers one cannot go far wrong. As a concrete illustration, let us suppose that we have deep sandy soil which grows a very small cotton stalk and is somewhat subject to rust. It is evident that we need a fertilizer that will produce a larger stalk and at the same time prevent rust.

To secure these results we must apply some cotton seed meal or some other form of nitrogen, about 100 pounds of kainit per acre, and also some phosphoric acid to produce the fruit. A fertilizer mixture for the best result on this type of land would consist of say 150 pounds of cotton seed meal, 150 pounds of 16% acid phosphate and 100 pounds of kainit per acre, applied just before planting.

As another illustration let us take a piece of land that produces a cotton stalk say 34 or 4 ft. high. If we are to plant this land in cotton again we may readily decide it does not stand in need of a nitrogenous fertilizer. From two to three hundred pounds of 16% acid phosphate per acre for the production of fruit will about meet the needs of such a soil, plus 100 pounds of kainit per acre if there be a tendency to rust.

An important fact to be borne in mind in fertilizing corn is that it always requires a heavier application of nitrogen than cotton on the same grade of land. All cereals and grasses are heavy users of nitrogen. On a piece of land that last year produced say one and half feet high, about the proper proportion would be two parts cotton seed meal and one part acid phosphate, applied just before planting. On better grades of soil, increase the phosphoric acid and decrease the nitrogen content.

All Alabama soils respond to the use of stable manures, leguminous crops, cotton seed meal, dried blood and nitrate of soda. The use of acid phosphate on heavy, black prairie soils is of somewhat doubtful value, but some experiments indicate that it will probably pay on red prairies, and it will certainly give good results on practically all the other soil types of Alabama. Kainit may be profitably used on cotton on any land where there is a tendency to rust.

Generally speaking, all fertilizers should be applied at or before planting time, the most notable Applied in this way to oats about the time they begin to boot and to corn just before it begins to tassle, this fertilizer has paid handsomely. Commission Decides Lessee Not Complying With Lease Terms. It is said that unless the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis railroad, lessee of the Western & Atlantic railroad, which is the property of the State of Georgia, sees fit to abide by the terms of its lease in the matter of freight rates from Atlanta to Chattanooga it may become necessary for the governor to declare the lease void and take over the road.

After thorough investigation, the railroad commission has reached the decision that the Nashville, Chattanooga & St. Louis Railroad Company is not complying with the terms of its lease in this important particular and will immediately certify the case to Governor Brown for whatever action he may deem advisable.

WIREGRASS HIGH ON THE COMMITTEES.

Pittman, Parks and Mulkey All Get Big Chairmanships When Plums Are Handed Out.

Southeast Alabama voted pretty near solid yesterday against Butler County representative for speaker of the House, and although the Speaker is from Colbert, about as far away as he could be and in Alabama, still he remembered his friends in the wiregrass. Way back in the seventies, when the elder Parks, Wm. C. Oates, Gappa T. Yalberton, Jesse M. Carmichael and Joe P. Hubbard used to go to the legislature from this section some big committee places came to this section, but since then has there been such preference shown the members from the Wiregrass. Good senate appointments came in years to senators Arrington, Gamble and Gardner, but this section has been left in the cold, so to speak, in the house till this time.

For many years judiciary has ranked as the first committee in importance, with revision of laws a close second; Parks, of Covington gets chairmanship of judiciary and Mulkey, of Geneva, the chairmanship of revision of laws.

Another big committee this session, when there is so much to do about fees and costs is the committee on fees allowances; this chairmanship comes to Pittman, of Coffee, a well-deserved recognition of our representative on local legislation, revision of laws, agriculture, and insurance appropriations, the last named having to do with the spending of the twenty million dollars that comes into the state treasury every quadrennium. Representative Capps of Henry, gets chairmanship of the committee on Counties and County Boundaries, and Whatley, of Houston, gets chairmanship of Committee on Agriculture.

Senator Felmar is chairman of the committee on Federal relations, and is on committees on local legislation, education, public roads, privileges and elections. This is a very fine assignment, and shows how our senator stands.

Senator Stokes, of Dale, is chairman of the committee on public printing and senator Esby, of Henry, is at the head of the committee on penitentiary and punishment, and each gets good assignments on other committees.

Keep Your Roads in Condition.

Rural Delivery Will Be Discontinued On All Routes Where the Roads Are Not Kept in Good Condition.

Fourth Assistant Postmaster General De Graw has taken on the role of good roads booster. He has charge of the rural free delivery service, and in a letter to postmasters he threatens to discontinue the service in localities where the roads are not kept in good condition.

The postmasters are directed to inform themselves of the road conditions and keep watch of the amount of attention paid to them by local authorities. If improvements are necessary, in the opinion of the postmaster, he is directed to bring the matter to the patrons of the road, and also the local authorities. If, after a reasonable time, no improvement has been made, he is ordered to notify the Postoffice Department officials, and the service will be discontinued.

The Department is not immediately concerned in elaborate road improvements, says Mr. DeGraw's letter, but in the interest of the best service to the greatest number, it must insist upon roads being kept in good repair. Postmasters are also asked to urge upon residents on rural delivery routes the advisability of painting their mail boxes and posts white and of inclosing their Child Discovers Rich Gold Deposit.

Tallapoosa, Ga., January 15.—(Special.)—The discovery of a large gold nugget by a child on the farm of John W. Harris, four miles from Tallapoosa, is believed to indicate rich deposits of yellow dust.

This place is directly in the rich Georgia gold belt and it is believed the discovery is an important one.

New Officers.

Yesterday was the day for the new county and state officers to take up their duties. Judge Rowe and Clerk Brock were already in office, Sheriff Stewart was the only one of the new officials to take charge for the first time.

Sheriff Stewart is one of the most popular men in the county, and will make a fine officer. He is perhaps the youngest sheriff Alabama now has. He has organized his office force by the appointment of Mr. Parker Stewart as deputy at Enterprise and Mr. C. R. Davis as chief deputy and jailer at Elba. Sheriff Stewart will divide his time between the two offices, but his family will reside at Enterprise. He has begun his career under most auspicious circumstances, and we predict for him a successful official record.

Judge Rowe and Clerk Brock continue their offices as heretofore. Register in Chancery M. A. Owen was yesterday reappointed by Chancellor Gardner, his appointment last summer having been only till the new Chancery term of six years begins.

Held Without Bond.

Geneva Reaper

The preliminary trial of Joel Aycock, Alto Barfoot and Mack Paul, charged with assaulting the family of a man by the name of Adkinson at Highgate about two weeks ago, was held Friday before the Justice of the Peace F. J. Laird, and the two former were bound over to the grand jury without bond, while Paul was released on bond of $500. The attack is reported to be one of the most diabolical heard of in this section for a long time, almost all the members of the family being wounded, and Mrs. Adkinson being repeatedly mistreated, so is alleged.

Rumors have been current for the past week that friends of Aycock and Barfoot would attempt their rescue from the county jail, and Sheriff Jenkins has been on the alert to thwart any such designs. Saturday night at a late hour the sheriff who was on guard with a heavily loaded shotgun, says he noticed five or six parties approaching the jail, and they, on seeing someone on guard, called out, "Who is that?" The captain not replying, one of them remarked that a 38 sent over it that direction would answer.

Of the donations by women philanthropists, Mrs. Russell Sage is the leading one. She gave $2,000,000 to build a town for home-making families or moderate incomes.

Five desperate prisoners escaped from the Fulton county Tower, in Atlanta, by sawing through the bars of the corridor window on the fourth floor and sliding down a rope made by tying their blankets together. They were A. R. Knox and Charles Sutton, charged with highway robbery; Edward Brooman and Harry Langdon, who burglarized a store on South Pryor street Christmas eve, and John Withrow, of Fannin county, wife murderer.

NOTES FROM

The so-called CARROLLIAN Mack amendment to the Highway law, making the initial carrier liable for loss of interstate shipments during transportation, not only on its lines, but also on those of connecting lines, was declared to be unconstitutional by the supreme court of the United States. A stubborn fight was made against the amendment as a radical departure in rate legislation.

The fight of the federal government to have the "labor contract" law of Alabama declared unconstitutional is usually met with success when the supreme court of the United States holds the law invalid. The government claimed that the law reduced hundreds of negroes to a state akin to peonage.

The fight against the policy of the state guaranteeing bank deposits met with telling reverses when the supreme court of the United States held constitutional the bank guaranty laws of Oklahoma, Nebraska and Kansas.

FROM HER TOMB MRS. EDDY TO RISE

Startling Declaration Made by Mrs. Stetson.

SAYS MRS. EDDY NOT DEAD

Ex-communicated Leader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, Says the Millennium Will Also Begin With Resurrection of Mother Eddy.

Mrs. Augusta E. Stetson, the ex-communicated leader of the First Church of Christ, Scientist, in New York, says that the hour has come when she must stand before the whole world of Christian Science and proclaim her belief in the imminent resurrection in the semblance of human form of Mary Baker G. Eddy, the discoverer of Christian Science, who, as the world believes, died at her home in Newton, Mass., on December 3.

"Mrs. Eddy is not dead," said Mrs. Stetson. "As Jesus Christ revealed himself on the third day after his crucifixion and later was seen of a company of 500, so Mrs. Eddy will be raised from the tomb and will manifest herself to all the world in proof of her teachings that there is no death. With this demonstration of herself in a form that will be visible to all the world the end of the gospel age will be signalled."

"With Mrs. Eddy will come Christ, the Truth, and the Millennium, seen by John on Patmos, will be with us. Then will all of faith find that there is no death, and those who see and believe will never die."
